My dog, Wyatt, likes to curl up under the piano bench while I play. Sometimes he'll get his squeaky ball and "play" his accompaniment. He also "sings" (howls) with great fervor. "Music hath charms to sooth the savage beast," wrote Shakespeare.

Music is a language that speaks deeply to the spirit. It not only is a unique source of emotion and creativity, it is also a special science with symbols that can be understood around the world. Come out this summer to learn and become more equipped in the skills of this language, art and science! You will learn basics in note reading, key signatures, chord building and progressions on the keyboard, different styles of music, hands-on rhythmic training, listening skills, singing, and more!
